Hexatronic completes acquisition of Rochester Cable

Hexatronic Group AB (publ.) ("Hexatronic") has today, March 3, 2023, completed the previously announced acquisition of Rochester Cable – one of the main designers and manufacturers of harsh environment electro-optical cables in the U.S., from TE Connectivity Corporation. The acquisition was announced October 3, 2022, and we have received regulatory approval.

The acquisition broadens Hexatronic's offering within fiber optic submarine communication cables to include dynamic working cables that can transmit both data and power.

The acquisition includes all business activities, land, and buildings, including manufacturing facilities.

The acquisition has been fully financed with a senior bank loan.
